

Walking in the Langhe: Wine, History and Truffles

An 8 day / 7 nights walking holiday

Code tour: ITAPIE05W

The best of Piedmont is certainly the hilly region the Langhe, set between the Alps and the Apennine mountains. Hills covered with vineyards as far as you can see, because this is the region of the famous Barolo wines. Walking during the day in this stunning landscape of vineyard, hazelnut and oak forests, visiting small characteristic villages and large castles, doesn't it sound like visiting paradise.. In the evening enjoying a good glass of wine combined with the Langhe cheeses.

The tour starts in Alba and the first days you will walk amongst the vineyards of the Nebbiolo grapes. On top of the hills, you pass small villages and impressive castles. The last part of the tour brings you to the wildest part of the Langhe where the finest hazelnuts in Europe grow. The landscape is varied: forests, deep valleys and hazelnut cultivations. The tour ends in the small town of Cortemilia.

Throughout the trip, there are plenty of good opportunities to taste not only the excellent local food but also to discover the taste of many famous wines of this stunning region.
