

The Way of St Francis from Florence to La Verna

A pilgrimage walk from Florence to La Verna

Code tour: W004UMB

The Way of St. Francis links cultural treasures and cherished sites from the life of Francis of Assisi. This tour is ideal for the experienced Santiago pilgrim who seeks a less crowded adventure. The route pauses to enjoy picturesque hill towns in Umbria, and then concludes with a climactic arrival at St. Peter's in Rome. Inspired by Francis of Assisi, beloved among saints, the walk allows pilgrims to experience for themselves the places he lived, prayed and worked. In Umbria, the native area of St. Francis, his presence is particularly strong and everything reminds us of the much-loved saint. This stretch starts in Florence and end in La Verna. You walk through a stunning landscape and certainly a highlight is the monastery of La Verna, where saint Francis received the stigmata.

This stage makes part of the Way of Saint Francis, which ends in Rome:

- A. La Verna - Città di Castello (7 days/6 nights)
- B. Città di Castello - Assisi (7 days/6 nights)
- C. Assisi- Spoleto (6 days / 5 nights)
- D. Spoleto - Rieti (7 days / 6 nights)
- E. Rieti - Rom (8 days / 7 nights)

Period: from 1 April to 15 October

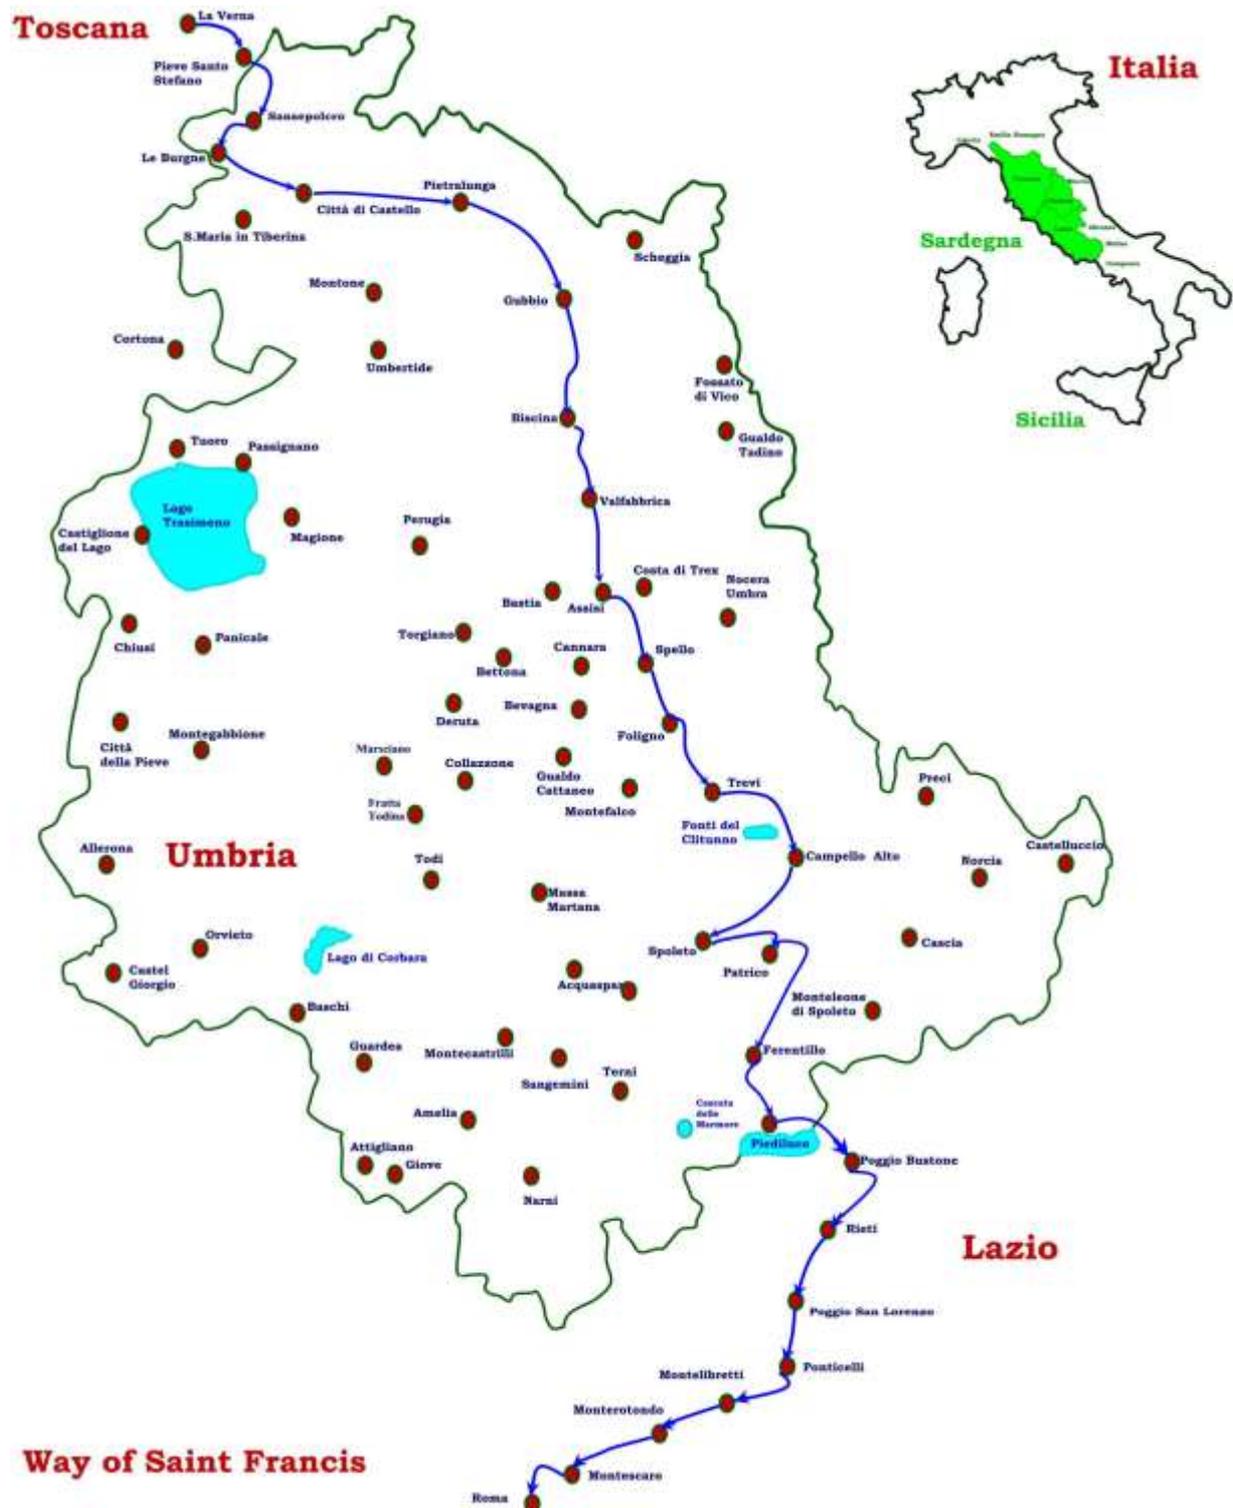

Level: 3/4 (medium to difficult)

The daily itineraries pass through moderately mountainous landscape and hilly terrain. On some days, the amount of ascent and descent is quite considerable. Daily walking distances are between 15 and 28 km (with an average of 3 - 4 km per hour).

This route requires experience, good physical condition, training and familiarity with mountain terrain.

It is suitable only for experienced hikers who can manage walking along steep trails with up to 900m elevation change (Florence-la Verna) Total distance: 99 km / 61,5 miles
